

Appleton's Journal will henceforth be enlarged to the extent of four more pages of reading. The Journal has always contained a large quantity of reading-matter than any other periodical of its class, and this additional renders it the cheapest literary periodical in the country. Appleton's Journal gives, in a weekly form, all the features of a monthly magazine. Its long and varied contents are in the case with a monthly periodical, while, in the course of the year, a much greater aggregate and a larger variety of papers are furnished than are given in any of the regular monthlies. But, for those who prefer to have the Journal put up in Monthly Parts, and in this form its scope and variety, as compared with other magazines, become conspicuously apparent.

Appleton's Journal will continue to present a healthy, sound, instructive, and entertaining literature. It will continue itself as a rule to one series of a story, and the best short stories at- tainable. It will give picturesque descriptions of places, and stirring narratives of travel and adventure. It will have entertaining papers on various subjects that pertain to the pursuits and recreations of the people; it will give portraits and sketches of persons distinguished in various walks of life, and which will contribute to the welfare and happiness of the household; it will describe phases of life in all quarters of the globe; it will discuss the important events of the time, and the advances made in art, literature, and science, and will endeavor to reflect the ideas, movements, and development of society; and, while hoping to enlighten, will endeavor also to entertain, with large abundance of material, all who resort to its pages for intellectual pleasure. Illustration will be given in the most varied and animation to its pages; but the aim will be to make it rather a journal of popular life than a mere vehicle for pictures. In carrying out this programme, the editors will have regard of the shallowest writers possible.

Price, 10 cents per number, or $4.00 per annum in advance. Subscriptions received for twelve or six months. Subscription price of Monthly Parts, $4.50. Any person who subscribes for Five Yearly Numbers, for weekly numbers, and remitting $20, will be entitled to a copy for one year gratis. Fifteen Yearly Subscribers, for weekly numbers, and remitting $50, will entitle sender to a copy for one year gratis.

In remitting by mail, a post-office or draft, payable to the order of D. Appleton & Co., or to the order of bank, notes, as, if lost, the order or draft can be recovered without loss to the sender. Volumes begin with January and July of each year. Appleton's Journal and either Harper's Weekly, Harper's Bazar, Harper's Magazine, Lippincott's Magazine, Atlantic Monthly, Scribner's Monthly, or the Galaxy, for one year, on receipt of Mr. Appleton's Journal and Lippincott's Living Age, for $10; Appleton's Journal and Oliver Optic's Magazine, for $5; the Journal and Popular Science Monthly, for $8.

These chromes are in every case American. They are by an original American process, with material of American manufacture, from designs of American scenery by an American painter, and presented to subscribers to the first successful American Art Journal. If no better because all this, they will certainly be so, as no foreign production can improve, and neither are they any worse if by reason of peculiarities of production they cost the publisher only a few cents more than the cost of the original painting.
